GREENVILLE, OHIO, THURSDAY, APRIL 6, 1916

No. 40.

Gettysburg.

Mrs. C. J. Miller spent last Saturday with her parents at Pleasant Hill.

P. B. Moul, wife and two children, visited Bradford yesterday. The former while there attended the County Sunday school executive meeting to work out the county convention program to be held in the near future.

Rev. J. O. Hillery and wife partook of the hospitality of P. B. Miller and wife yesterday.

The third quarterly meeting and conference of this circuit will be held at Horatio in two weeks from yesterday in an all-day meeting.

Yesterday was Missionary Day for our M. E. Sunday school. Attendance 129, and collection $9.80.

The pupils of the high school department of our academy met the high school department pupils of the Franklin township academy in a contest last Friday night in the latter's home and won out over them by a very small margin. This shows that the contestants were very near equal in proficiency; the winners will have little to be elated over, and the losers will have small regrets for their loss. The defeat was not overwhelming. Take courage and try again. Both can do better next time.

Our schools will continue another month, when the lad and the lassie will find something else to employ their time and energy.

March came in rampant, with frigid temperature, and went out with a considerable higher one, much to our comfort. But April so far has been somewhat colder and more comfort is experienced close to the warm stove or grate than outdoors.

W. H. Horner has the frame work of his residence up, from which can be seen the appearance of a house. Sometimes fortune comes loaded with more than is wished for, and so it seems in Mr. Horner's attempt to dig a well. More water was found than desired and the quantity is difficult to manage. I suppose that after sewered properly the quantity would not be too large.

From the difficult travel upon our roads a great deal of repairs will be necessary when the time comes for the work.

C. W. Jervis and wife of Columbus, their son and daughter, visited his mother, Mrs. M. J. Coburn, yesterday evening.

Solomon Stoltz, who has been confined to his house and bed for a good part of the winter, is now showing some improvement and the expectation is that he will get out again among his associates.

Roy Feeser has begun the erection of a new residence on his farm outside of our village, during which time he and his family will be living in the barn.

Since we wrote last the month of March, with its changing weather conditions, has passed into that eternity that never returns, and as we take a retrospective view of the events that took place throughout the month we should be thankful that it is as well with us as it is. But the thought comes to our minds, what will April bring forth and how can we, as a nation, as individuals, improve upon our conduct of the preceding month? There is much for individuals, and nations, too, to accomplish before we can arrive at that stage of perfection designed by the Divine Ruler of the universe, that the task seems herculean; yet, if we but seek for the solution in the right way we can accomplish results that will be of lasting benefit to this and succeeding generations. May we all work for that end. But we were not asked to write sermons or homilies, but news, therefore we will leave this subject for wiser and more able writers and proceed to chronicle a few items of news that came under our observation.

Glen Michael has returned to work at Dayton.

Louis Viets has severed his connection with O. B. Karns, our general merchant. We understand that he is going to Dayton to work.

Several of our citizens transacted business in Greenville Saturday.

Wm. Christian moved to Fort Jefferson last week and J. B. Gibson moved into the property he vacated.

Henry Grubbs of southeast of town passed through here Sunday.

B. H. Clay has begun a series of lessons in automobile driving, under instructions of C. W. Smith. It will not be long before that new auto will be filling the air with its cheerful hum—if it don't stop.

Rev. Barnhart filled his appointment here Sunday morning. He presented some very pertinent and timely truths from the subject, "Grow in Grace."

Class No. 8 of our Sunday school is developing a very lively interest in the lessons of the quarter, and it is well for every member to study each lesson if they would keep abreast of the subjects, as history and biography is being brought to the front and encyclopedias are consulted and quoted freely. We hope that this state of things will continue, to the end that much good may be done.

Mrs. W. E. Michael called on Mrs. B. H. Clay Sunday afternoon.

Mrs. B. H. Clay entertained her sister from near Arcanum on Sunday.

Children Cry FOR FLETCHER'S CASTORIA

Palestine.

Sunday afternoon callers to see Mrs. Malinda Wilcox were P. J. Saylor and wife, H. L. Ludy and family and Miss Norma Shields.

T. J. Wilson and wife visited at David Ross's last Friday.

C. E. Harris and wife, who have been in Florida for the winter, returned home last Friday.

Edward Jefferis and wife entertained the brothers and parents of Mrs. Jefferis last Sunday.

Three weeks of school after this and the teachers can then have a breathing spell before going away to summer school.

Once again it has been brought to mind, by an observer, that good breeding is an essential part of the education of a young man or woman. That being so, get all you can. It is needed.

April 3. FROM PALESTINE.

Watch Child's Cough.

Colds, running of nose, continued irritation of the mucous membrane if neglected may mean Catarrh later. Don't take the chances—do something for your child! Children will not take every medicine, but they will take Dr. King's New Discovery and without bribing or teasing. It's a sweet pleasant Tar Syrup and so effective. Just laxative enough to eliminate the waste poisons. Almost the first dose helps. Always prepared, no mixing or fussing. Just ask your druggist for Dr. King's New Discovery. It will safeguard your child against serious ailments resulting from colds. —Adv

For the Battleship.

Mary E. Brown, aged 2 years.

Edward H. Brown, aged 3 months.

We have sent two dimes to help build the battleship. I hope that many more little children will send in their dimes. We are sending two verses.

The battleship will sail
On the ocean grand and true,
And the colors she will carry
Will be red, white and blue.

I am sending you this dime
To help build this battleship,
And in some future time
Perhaps I'll sail on this ship.

LIQUOR LARGELY RESPONSIBLE.

"Of every dollar spent by the state of Ohio, 33 cents goes for charities, hospitals, and penal and correctional institutions, according to Auditor of State Donahay. Only 30 cents of each dollar goes for the maintenance of state schools and universities, and but half a cent is spent for public health. Practically one-third of all the money raised by the state is expended for the care of the criminal and unfortunate. Intoxicating liquor is responsible for at least 60 per cent of these criminals and unfortunate."

EMPLOYEES OF LIMA ON THE WATER WAGON

Action of Mayor Simpson and Heads of Departments.

Lima, O.—(Special.)—The city of Lima has the distinction of being the first Ohio municipality to place its employees on the water wagon. Following the action of Mayor Smith of Philadelphia in prohibiting drinking on the part of the 12,000 employees of that city while on duty, Mayor Simpson of Lima, in conjunction with the director of public safety and the director of public service, has prohibited the employees of that city from using intoxicants of any kind while on duty.

This order affects from 150 to 200 men. It is made clear to these men that if the order is violated, immediate suspension will follow and then dismissal from service.

NO MONEY IN BUSINESS

More Than a Half Hundred Liquor Licenses Not Working.

There are more than a half hundred saloon licenses in Columbus not working. That is, the number of Columbus saloons is more than 50 below what the city is entitled to under the limitation clause in the license law. The reason? One of the license commissioners says so many Columbus men have quit drinking that the saloon business has become unprofitable.

It is stated by those who know that only about 5 per cent of the 377 Columbus saloons are actually making money.

England Becoming Sober.

According to David Lloyd-George, the restrictions thrown about the sale of liquor in England, amounting in some sections to prohibition, are having a salutary effect. The police records show a reduction of something like 40 per cent in drunkenness throughout the country. Lloyd-George expresses the hope that the nation will be convinced that success in war largely depends on removing the drag upon its effectiveness caused by drink.

BANKS, BUSINESS AND PROHIBITION

"THE direct benefit from prohibition resulting to banks in Conneaut may in part be shown in the fact that during the period since saloons were voted out, our deposits have increased $240,000 and we have been enabled to increase our surplus fund from $20,000 to $50,000. There are doubtless other factors accounting for this growth, but we are well satisfied that the closing of the saloons has had a considerable part in it. We find that many men who were spending all they could spare, and in most instances more than they should spare for liquor, have been able to increase their comforts in life and have a residue to lay away in the savings banks. They have also been more regular in paying their accounts to the merchants, and this, of course, has enabled the merchants to increase their deposits."

"Nearly all of our merchants have reported better sales and easier collections during this period than formerly, and in the few instances where this has not been so, poor methods and lack of ambition has been usually the cause."

"We heard a great deal before voting that if the town should go dry there would be a great many empty store buildings standing for which it would be impossible to find tenants. This has proven to be a bugbear as the buildings that were fit for the occupancy of other business have been rented and some new buildings have been built during the period."

"On the whole, we are certain that business conditions are very much better here than they were under the saloon regime, and we think that our people believe so, also, as they have given an increased majority for the drys at elections held subsequent to the original voting."—Charles E. Cobb, President Conneaut Mutual Loan and Trust Company, Conneaut, Ohio.
